SENIOR TERRITORIANS ADVISORY COUNCIL
MEMBER PROFILES

Chair – Ms Janet Durling, 68

Mrs Durling is a Darwin resident who has been living in the NT for 30 years. She is now retired following a career in education and is currently involved with volunteer work at Anglicare NT. Mrs Durling stays active through participation in fitness classes as well as school and children's initiatives. By being part of the STAC, she aims to contribute to solutions for seniors' issues and an increased seniors presence in the Territory.

Deputy Chair – Mr Art Libien, 62

Mr Libien is a Palmerston resident who has lived in the NT for 37 years. He has an education background and is now retired. Mr Libien is currently completing a fitness qualification and is an active community participant through school health and fitness events. By being part of the STAC, he aims to gain a better understanding of seniors' issues and provide input into decision making.

Reverend Denyse Edney, 64

Rev. Denyse Edney lives in Alice Springs and has been an NT resident for 17 years. She works part-time for Central Australian Remote Health Development Services as a health educator and literacy specialist working with Aboriginal Health Workers. She has worked in education for more than forty years. Rev. Edney also works part-time from home as a metaphysician and holistic health practitioner and teaches Tai Chi. She is honoured to be a member of STAC and hopes to provide a voice for seniors and those working with them throughout Central Australia.

Mr Colin Hardaker, 67

Mr Hardaker lives in Tennant Creek and has been an NT resident for 25 years. He is retired and is an active committee participant with an interest in community volunteering. Through his membership of the STAC, he aims to work towards solutions for seniors' issues in the Barkly region.

Mr Brian Hilder, 75

Mr Hilder is a Darwin resident who has lived in the NT for 23 years. He is retired and an active community participant through membership of community organisations and Boards. By being a part of the STAC, Mr Hilder aims to create solutions for seniors' issues.

Mr Graham Kemp, 63

Mr Kemp lives in Darwin and has been an NT resident for 5 years. His background is in the real estate and building industries, and he is currently working full-time. Mr Kemp is a member of community and professional committees and Boards, as well as a Justice of the Peace. By being a part of the STAC he aims to highlight seniors' issues in the Territory and contribute to an improved quality of life.

Mrs Lillian Mann, 69

Mrs Mann lives in Darwin's rural area and has been an NT resident for 25 years. She has an education background and is now retired. Mrs Mann stays active in her community through volunteer opportunities and participation in several committees. She aims to be a voice for retirees through her membership of the STAC.

Ms Kathy Martin,

Born and bred in the Territory, Ms Martin has spent 52 years of her life, including her schooling in Alice Springs. Ms Martin was actively involved with setting up Central Australian Aboriginal Legal Aid. Prior to her retirement in 1997, Ms Martin worked for 20 years with Aboriginal Hostels. Ms Martin welcomes the opportunity to be a member of STAC and hopes her involvement will make a difference for Aboriginal seniors.

Mr Banambi Wunungmurra, 59

Mr Wunungmurra is an East Arnhem resident who has lived in the NT for all of his 59 years. He has a background of community involvement, and is working full-time. Mr Wunungmurra is a member of two professional Boards, and by participating in the STAC aims to create results for seniors.
