No. 801

LIST OF COMPANIES WITH A HOLDER OF A CERTIFICATE OF ACCREDITATION

This list of companies has been provided to assist you in finding people who can write a certificate of compliance. To write a certificate of compliance for a radiation place, each radiation source must have been tested by a holder of a certificate of accreditation.

A radiation protection adviser is expected to apply for a certificate of accreditation to test a radiation source. For all other certificate holders who carry out work, the authorised holder may issue a certificate of compliance for a radiation source when the work is completed. For the purpose of the Radiation Protection Act, carry out work means to decommission, install, service or test a radiation source.
